On the memorial of Our Lady of Sorrows, we turn our gaze to Mary, the Mother of Jesus, who stood faithfully at the foot of the Cross. Our Lady of Sorrows teaches us that true love is never without sacrifice. Her heart was pierced with sorrow as she witnessed the suffering and death of her Son, yet she remained steadfast, trusting in God's plan of salvation.

Mary's sorrows remind us that suffering is not meaningless. When united with Christ, our trials can become a path to deeper faith, hope, and love. Like Mary, we too are invited to stand at the foot of the crosses in our lives—whether through personal struggles, the burdens of loved ones, or the pains of our world—and to discover that God's grace is present even there.

Our Lady of Sorrows is close to all who suffer. She understands the grief of parents, the heartache of families, the loneliness of the afflicted, and the struggles of the faithful. She consoles us with her maternal presence and points us to the victory of her Son, reminding us that beyond the Cross lies the Resurrection.

As we honour Our Lady of Sorrows, let us entrust our pain and worries to her intercession. May she help us to remain faithful in times of trial, courageous in carrying our crosses, and always open to the hope of new life in Christ.

"Holy Mary, Our Lady of Sorrows, pray for us, that we may stand with you at the Cross and share with you in the joy of the Resurrection."
